In this series of artworks, I use my paper drawing as a basic layer in combination with the tapioca drawing to create a sculptural image.

This work is based on the fiction theater play A no san fesi e sori, ati e tyari that Barsatie wrote about a lady named Christien. In the script there are moments of loneliness, emotions, hatred, trauma, trust and confusion. Christien asks herself, "how can I explain something to someone when I don't even understand it myself"?

In this video installation, Barsatie shows a chaotic atmosphere between the deep-rooted subconscious and the conscious mind. With repetition of patterns, finger sculptures on stacked charcoal and drawings on the wall, she creates a meditation of giving space, burning the inner thought, processing and releasing it.
